

sabotages all these desirable outcomes. A student who deceives stands only to reap the harvest that he did not plant (creating false feelings and impressions of success), and it shields him from learning the lessons that he needs to mature. Telling the truth (even when it hurts) is good for you, and it is the key to academic integrity.

11. Virtual School Technology

All course materials can be accessed via our learning management system Schoology (www.schoology.com). The live virtual classroom will be the first link provided in the list of course materials. This will open a video conferencing application called Zoom. Students will receive an access code to the Schoology course in a separate e-mail from the teacher prior to the start of the course.

12. About the Teacher

calls western Nebraska home, the borderland where Midwest and West shake hands. There he has taught literature, composition, history, journalism, and humanities at the high school and college levels for twenty years. He has long been drawn to classical Christian education. And he is as excited as he is thankful to now be fully in its orbit and looks forward to working with students in the humanities, rhetoric, and logic.

His education is varied, having earned master's degrees in history and English from the University of Wyoming and the University of Nebraska at Omaha, respectively. Most recently, he earned a MTh in Applied Orthodox Theology from the Antiochian House of Studies and an MA in Biblical Theology from John Paul the Great Catholic University, and, in fall of 2021, completed the coursework for the PhD in Humanities from Faulkner University and has begun work on the dissertation. A tonsured Reader, he is active in parish ministry at Assumption Orthodox Christian Church in Bayard, Nebraska, and is in the process to be ordained to the priesthood.
