

The Scholé Chronicle

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

Summer has come! And what better way to explore the heat than on horse back through the midwest? We would love any stories, true or fantasy about what adventures await us in the land of bison, cowboys and twisters.

Scholé Chronicle Issue 21 Requirements

Please email Sarah Schmitz at submissions.scholechronicle@gmail.com with all questions and submissions.

General Notes:

- All submissions are due by July 24, 2026
- Our Projected Publishing Date is September 14, 2026
- Unfortunately, we are not always able to publish every submission.
- Please keep all submissions relevant to the theme chosen.

Issue 21 Themes:

1. This summer, we are featuring the rugged realms of the American southwest. We would love to see stories and artwork that invite us into the midwest and world of cowboys. Inspiration can be drawn from anything from Little House on the Prairie to Jessie James.
2. Summer: Our seasonal column will feature the sunny hues of summer!
3. For those of you wishing for a prompt, here is a list of “What Ifs” to get the creative gears going:
 - a. What if creatures from OZ rode a tornado into our midwest?
 - b. What if corn fields remembered everything?
 - c. What if stars on the prairie are closer to the earth than anywhere else on earth?
 - d. What if abandoned farm houses stayed occupied by the echoes of their previous residents?
 - e. What if tumbleweeds are headed toward a special destination?
